

PRI Interdisciplinary Studies Summit

April 25-26, 2024

Format & Audience

- This summit will be held at the Postural Restoration Institute® in Lincoln, Nebraska, for in-person attendance only and will not be available via live stream/Zoom.
- Presentations are 90 minutes in length and includes up to two speakers, along with a question and answer period for the last 15 minutes (of the 90 minutes allotted time).
- Presentations may include the following formats:
 - Lecture Presentations
 - Interactive Presentations
 - presentation with demonstration and targeted audience engagement
 - demonstration by the presenter, may involve an attendee, or may be done via video
 - Case Study Presentations
 - PRI Application Presentations
 - presentation on how the science of Postural Restoration® can be uniquely applied to a particular population, syndrome, disorder, profession, etc.
 - Forum Presentations
 - presenter(s) provide an overview on a current topic and pose stimulating questions to the audience for a structured audience discussion
 - Learning Lab Presentations
 - short lecture followed by hands-on lab session, and concluding with 15 minutes of question & answer session

Important Guidelines

- Presentation topics should be relevant to the interest of the PRI community and must fall within one of the five summit sub-categories:
 1. Neuro-Postural Imbalance
 2. Forward Locomotor Limitation
 3. Respiratory Restriction
 4. Pelvis Disorders
 5. Cervical-Cranio/Cervical-Mandibular Dysfunction
- Speakers may be any licensed healthcare and/or certified fitness or movement professional. Speakers do not need to be PRI Credentialed Providers, and PRI welcomes interdisciplinary professionals (i.e. dentists, optometrists, massage therapists, psychologists, etc.). A presentation may include up to two speakers, and interdisciplinary teams (i.e. PT and Dentist) are encouraged to submit an abstract.
- Presentations must avoid any affiliation with a commercial product or service.
- By submitting an abstract, speaker(s) are agreeing to be available for scheduling on either day of the summit.
- By submitting an abstract, speaker(s) are agreeing to adhere to the Compensation Policy for presentations (see below), as it will be strictly enforced.
- The individual submitting the abstract must have confirmed the presentation with all speakers prior to submission, if more than one speaker will be participating in the presentation.

- Selection of abstracts is contingent upon approval by the PRI Interdisciplinary Studies Summit Committee.
 - Due to an unknown number of abstracts that may be submitted, all abstracts may not be selected. Topics will be selected based on the organization of the program, equipment needs, and quality of content and speakers.
 - After July 15, 2023, the Postural Restoration Institute® will only approve a speaker change if the original speaker is unable to attend the Summit.

Deadline

- Abstracts must be submitted no later than July 15, 2023.
- Incomplete (e.g., missing speaker CV) and/or late abstract submissions will NOT be accepted.

Compensation Policy for Lectures

- $300 honorarium divided proportionally (if there are two speakers, each speaker must actively present for a minimum of 20 minutes); in addition:
 - Complimentary PRI Interdisciplinary Studies Summit registration
 - Reimbursement of authorized expenses related to the speaking engagement (roundtrip coach airfare or up to $500 in mileage reimbursement, $100 food stipend, and up to three night's lodging at one of the hotels listed on the confirmations letter.)

Please have the following information available as you will need this to complete the abstract submission process.

Presentation Information

- Title of presentation (overall and for presentations by each speaker if applicable)
- Presentation length (overall and for each speaker if presentation includes multiple speakers)
- Sub-category (see "important guidelines")
- Abstract (150 words or less)
- Learning objectives for the presentation (at least three) - The objectives should follow best practice for learning objective construction. Please use Bloom's Taxonomy Action Verbs, which must be measurable. Measurable objectives include: "recognize", "identify", "explain", "distinguish", "evaluate", "outline". Please avoid "understand" and "appreciate", as these are not measurable.
- Two to three keywords (not in the title) that best describe the focus of the presentation
- Three to five references/sources (e.g. peer reviewed publications) that support the content of the presentation
- Speaker Information (required for each speaker)
 - Name & Credentials
 - Business Name or Place of Employment: Name & address
 - Contact information: Email & phone
 - CV for uploading (word document or pdf)
